Luxe Threads operates through an online store and collaborates with select boutiques in select cities.

Despite its early success, the brand is facing challenges in distinguishing itself from the competition in a saturated fashion market. Ava is now planning to launch her third collection and wants to ensure that her designs maintain the brand's identity while appealing to a broader audience. She is also considering expanding her product range to include accessories and footwear but is unsure if this will align with the brand's current focus on apparel.

Ava wants to ensure her next collection stands out in the market, not only through the designs themselves but also through the overall brand experience, from online shopping to customer engagement.
