

Roll no.....

Name of the Course: BAJMC

Semester: VI

Name of the Paper: Advanced Video Production

Paper Code: DSE 605

Time: 3 hours

Maximum Marks: 100

Note:

- (i) Answer any two of the sub questions a, b and c in each main question
- (ii) Each question carries 20 marks.
- (iii) Each sub question carries 10 marks

Q1.

CO1 (2*10=20 Marks)

- a. Define Visual Grammar. Describe the different types of shots and camera angles with appropriate examples.
- b. What are the components and types of a video camera? Explain in detail with their functions.
- c. Describe the three-point lighting system and list different types of lighting instruments used in video production.

Q2.

CO2 (2*10=20 Marks)

- a. What are the properties of sound? Explain the components of sound used in media production.
- b. Describe the roles and responsibilities of different production personnel during the pre-production, production, and post-production stages.
- c. Explain different types of microphones and the scenarios in which they are most appropriately used.

Q3.

CO3 (2*10=20 Marks)

- a. How would you plan and execute a basic lighting setup for a sit-down interview in an indoor environment using reflectors and lighting instruments?
- b. Demonstrate the process of capturing raw footage and editing it using Final Cut Pro/Adobe premiere pro, explaining how you would insert basic transitions and titles.
- c. Compare and contrast parallelism and contrast in editing. How do these principles shape the narrative tone of a video production.

Q4.

CO4 (2*10=20 Marks)

- a. Analyze the differences between chroma key and luma key techniques, and discuss situations where each would be most effective.
- b. Examine the relationship between camera features (focus, zoom, aperture) and the visual storytelling of a scene.
- c. Evaluate the importance of sound design in video production. Use examples to justify how poor sound can impact the effectiveness of a scene, regardless of strong visuals.

Q5.

CO5 (2*10=20 Marks)

- a. Critically evaluate the use of transitions and video effects in Final Cut Pro. When do these enhance storytelling, and when might they distract from the content.
- b. Develop a proposal for a new documentary for National Geographic Channel, including the format, target audience, anchor profile, and sample content.
- c. Design a 2-minute scene (fiction or nonfiction) using all stages of production (pre-production to post-production). Include shot types, lighting setup, sound planning, editing decisions.